

Midwest Rural Agricultural Safety and Health Conference

SAFEGUARDING FARM LIVELIHOODS

November 15-16, 2016 ▶ Terrace View Event Center, Sioux Center, IA

Join us in Sioux Center, IA for the 15th annual Midwest Rural Agricultural Safety and Health Conference. The conference brings together many different stakeholders engaged in ag health and safety, including farmers, farm workers, health care professionals, safety and health professionals, educators, ag organization and agribusiness representatives, ag employers, advocates for migrant farm workers, media members and policy makers.

Tuesday, November 15th

- Prevention by Design, keynote by Wayne Bauer, founder of the Grain Entrapment Prevention Initiative
- Breakout sessions highlight ag safety and health research and outreach topics
- Evening poster session and reception

Wednesday, November 16th

- Interactive sessions on grain handling safety, behavioral health, and cross-cultural concerns of farm workers
- Awards luncheon and small group discussions
- Agricultural Health Fair and Safety Exposition — Topics include Behavioral Health, Diabetes & Healthy Hearts, Livestock and Grain Handling Safety, Rural Road Safety and Respiratory Protection

Participants can register for one or both days; registrations are due November 4th.

Complete conference agenda and registration information available at www.i-cash.org/2016-MRASH

