

COVID-19 IN THE WORKPLACE: CREATING SAFE WORKSPACES

Michael T. Osterholm, PhD, MPH

Director, Center for Infectious Disease Research and Policy (CIDRAP)

Professor, Division of Environmental Health Sciences, University of Minnesota School of Public Health

The symposium will begin with a virtual poster session on occupational health and safety research by MCOHS- and UMASH-sponsored students and partners.

 SAVE THE DATE

APRIL 22, 2021

12:00pm - 3:00pm Central

With concern about virus variants, yet the hope of vaccination, what messages should we be providing to employers and their workers? What steps are needed to prepare for workers to return to work in-person?

Join Dr. Michael Osterholm, a member of President Biden's Transition COVID-19 Advisory Board and the Director of the Center for Infectious Disease Research and Policy (CIDRAP), to understand the latest developments of the pandemic and explore options for protecting the workforce. Following his talk, a panel of experts representing workers from agriculture, health care and retail trade industries will discuss measures to keep employees safe in light of health inequities.

PANELISTS:

Amira Adawe, MPH

Founder and Executive Director, The Beautywell Project

Jonathan Sellman, MD, MPH

Occupational Environmental Medicine Consultant & Clinic Medical Director, HealthPartners Medical Group; Medical Director, Regions Hospital Employee Health

Lourdes Villanueva

Director of Farmworker Advocacy, Redlands Christian Migrant Association (RCMA)

Midwest Center for Occupational Health and Safety Education and Research Center
mcohs.umn.edu

Upper Midwest Agricultural Safety and Health Center
umash.umn.edu

